

Worksheet #

1.15

"Never stay up on the barren heights of cleverness, but come down into the green valleys of silliness." - LUDWIG WITIGENSTEIN

THE ART OF SILLINESS

An Online Workshop with Carla Sonheim • Session 1 (Redux) • Wednesday, 10/12/11

Drawing Exercise #13

SCRIBBLE!

Your assignment today is to scribble all over this worksheet for five minutes straight. Do not try to make anything out of your designs... just pretend you are two years old and are just moving that pen around the page for the pure joy of making marks. You can even hold your pen in your fist!

Some of you might find this to be the hardest exercise yet. That's okay, but do try to "let go" now. Work quickly, and really get into it. Just make a big scribbly mess all over your paper!! Extra Credit: Do the same thing for 10 more minutes.

It's Wednesday again, and time for

hump day haiku!

Write a 5-7-5 structured haiku and post online at the Sillyblog.

Today's topic: Silly, Silliness, The Art of Silliness, etc.

---

---

---